

APPRENTICESHIP INFORMATION

First Door is approved as a Skills Assure supplier to provide Government subsidised training in CHC50113 Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care.

There are many benefits to an apprenticeship pathway, and to partnering with First Door to facilitate your training and assessment under an apprenticeship training contract.

The following information explains some of the obligations of the apprentice, employer and First Door during an apprenticeship training contract.

Free Apprenticeships for Under 25s

Free apprenticeships for under 25s funding covers the cost of training for apprentices and trainees who commence or are undertaking a priority apprenticeship or traineeship qualification from 1 July 2019 to 30 June 2023.

Apprenticeship employer responsibilities

At the beginning of the apprenticeship, the employer must:

- have an employment contract in place for a minimum of 15 hours per week
- arrange the signing of a training contract with an Australian Apprenticeships Centre
- select a User Choice Skills Assure Supplier Registered Training Organisation (RTO) in consultation with the apprentice, e.g. First Door
- negotiate a training plan with the apprentice and the RTO

For the duration of the apprenticeship the employer must:

- provide, or arrange to provide, the facilities and range of work as specified in the training plan, ensuring your apprentice is adequately supervised by a qualified person
- pay the wages and provide the entitlements specified in the relevant award
- release the apprentice from work and pay the appropriate wages to attend any off-the-job training, including assessment as provided for in the training plan
- discharge all lawful obligations of an employer, including those relating to workplace health and safety

Existing workers can apply for apprenticeships

An existing worker is an employee who has worked continuously for an employer either full-time for more than three months, or part-time or casual for more than 12 months, immediately prior to entering an apprenticeship with that same employer. Apprentices cannot be casual workers at the commencement of the training contract.

Apprenticeship employer incentives

Commencement incentives for employers range from $1,250 - $1,500

Completion incentives for employers range from $1,500 - $3,000

Support of $4,000 is available for employers of adult apprentices over 21 years of age.

'Off the job training' with First Door

Training provided by First Door as the Registered Training Organisation is referred to as 'off-the-job training' during the period of the apprenticeship. Under the requirements of the training contract, all employers must release their apprentice from work and pay the appropriate wages to attend any off-the-job training.

Students enrolled with First Door are able to attend a Zoom workshop for each unit. Our online courses and eLearning portal provides access to resources for each unit, including video tutorials and assessment guides.

The assessment workbook for each unit is based on practical work-based activities and assessment tasks which allow students to put their learning into practice.

First Door also connects each student with an industry experienced and qualified trainer as the student's personal mentor. The mentor is available for study support and to provide a mentoring meeting and practical skills assessment relevant to the current unit of study.

APPRENTICESHIP Co-contribution fees

First Door is an approved Skills Assure Supplier (SAS) to provide Government funded Apprenticeship training in CHC50113 Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care and traineeship training in CHC30113 Certificate III in Early Childhood Education and Care.

As a SAS, First Door receives funding from the Government when an Apprentice or Trainee student successfully completes each unit in the Early Childhood Education and Care course.

What are Co-contribution fees?

The 'User Choice Policy' for funded training to apprentices and trainees is written by the Queensland Government, Department of Employment, Small Business and Training. This policy states the SAS (First Door) must charge co-contribution fees to Apprentice students and Traineeship students, unless they are exempt, e.g. they qualify for:

- School based trainee or apprentice
- Free apprenticeships for under 25s
- Fee-free training for Year 12 graduates

Co-contribution fees must be charged to the Apprentice at the specified rate of $1.60 per nominal hour, that the training and assessment experience is expected to take for each unit. Please see the next page for the list of nominal hours for each unit, in the Diploma course.

Co-contribution fee charging

How much will it cost per unit?

As some units have much higher nominal hours than others, First Door has averaged the nominal hours and set the co-contribution fee as an average value across all units that First Door facilitates training and assessment, within the Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care.

How are the Co-contribution fees charged?

Unless the student is exempt, First Door will arrange a monthly direct payment plan, with either the apprentice or the employer.

Covers all training and assessment costs

The policy states that the co-contribution fee charged for a qualification must represent the total cost to the student, and includes: enrolment charges, tuition fees, material fees and all other costs associated with delivering the training and assessment services towards the qualification.

Who can pay my co-contribution fees?

The co-contribution fee can be paid on behalf of the student by an employer or third party unrelated to the SAS (First Door).

The User Choice Policy states the fee is not able to be paid or waived by First Door (whether directly or indirectly).

The Policy further states the SAS (First Door) must not refund, waive, return payment, or provide a cash payment, or bonus to any payer of the co-contribution fee (including third parties) or fail to collect the co-contribution fee.

Fee exemptions

Who is exempt from paying co-contribution fees?

- Apprentices or trainees under 25 years.
- Year 12 graduates who starts an apprenticeship or traineeship within twelve months of completing Year 12.
- School based trainees or apprentices.
- Using the fee-waiver process at enrolment to disclose that payment of these fees would cause extreme financial hardship.
- Students that have previously completed the exact unit code and Credit Transfer applies.
- Students that are completing the qualification as part of the Skilling Queenslanders for Work – Work Skills Traineeship program.

Who qualifies for partial exemption?

The SAS (First Door) must charge 40% of the student co-contribution fee when:

- The participant was or will be under 17 years of age at the end of February in the year provided with training.
- The participant holds a Health Care Card or Pensioner Concession Card, or is the partner or a dependent of the person who holds a Health Care Card or Pensioner Concession Card, and is named on the card.
- The participant is an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person. Acceptable evidence is as stated on the Training Contract and AVETMISS VET Enrolment Form.
